Twenty-Eight Men Meet a Horrible Death.

MICHIGAN MINE DISASTER.

A River Breaks Through Its Bed and Rushes Into a Mine Where Forty-Six Men Were at Work—Eighteen Escape, but All the Rest Were Drowned—None of the Bodies Have Been Recovered and Probably Never Will Be—Names of the Victims.

CRYSTAL FALLS, Mich., Sept. 30.—With a terrific rush the waters of the Michigan river broke through a bed weakened by mining into the Mansfield mine between 9 and 10 o'clock Thursday night, drowning 28 men who were at work in the mine under the cave-in. There were 46 men in the mine when the accident occurred, but 18 of them, who were working in the lower levels, managed to escape.

The names of the drowned miners are:

None of the bodies has been recovered, and it is believed it will be necessary to divert the channel of the river before they can be secured.

The news was slow in reaching the outside world. The nearest telegraph office is at Crystal Falls, six miles away, and though a railroad track runs into the Mansfield mine camp, it was only used to haul out ore and bring in supplies. A courier carried the news to Crystal Falls, but not until then was the news sent abroad. It is believed to have been the worst disaster that ever occurred in the Lake Superior iron-region.

The Mansfield mine is located seven miles west of Marquette. It is one of the Schlessinger group, and is operated by Corrigan Ives of Cleveland. The mine reaches out under the river, but the earth between the workings and the stream was supposed to be of such thickness as to make the flooding impossible, and extra precautions had been taken against a disaster of this kind.

When the night shift went on duty it was noticed more water was coming into the mine than usual, but no attention was felt by those at the pumps, as they managed to keep the drifts free. The miners pursued their work as on every night. Suddenly, a few minutes after 7, there was a loud report and an overpowering rush of water and the men felt themselves being overwhelmed by an avalanche of mud, ore and water. So fast came the flood that it is doubtful whether the men on the upper levels had time to run for their lives to the old shaft. Had any of them reached the perpendicular opening, however, it would have availed them nothing, for the shaft known as No. 1 collapsed as soon as the water reached and undermined its base.

This occurred at precisely half past 9, and it was then known to those in charge of the mine that the men in the upper levels had been trapped and drowned like rats by an accident which had long been expected. Had there been time the men might have descended by some means to the lower levels and crossed over to No. 2 shaft, but the rushing flood came too fast, and it is thought that most of them met death within five minutes.

The men at work in the lower levels were warned in time to escape. A few minutes after 9 they heard an ominous roar, and at once suspecting the cause, dropped their picks and fled for their lives. The water, pursuing as it did, the devious course necessary in running from one level to another was already ankle deep in the lower levels when the men reached the shaft and were drawn up from what seemed certain death.

The news of the disaster sped on swift wings throughout the little hamlet and a wild cry of alarm was voiced by the inhabitants as they rushed from their homes and gathered about the shaft, just as the last one of the 18 men were brought to the surface.

When the cause of the accident was explained to the anxious inquirers, a cry of horror went up as they realized that the long expected and dreaded accident had taken place.

There was a call for volunteers, which was at once answered, to descend the only available shaft and succor, if possible, any miner who might possibly be found. But the courage and strong intent of the hardy miners was of no avail, as the waters had already reached the lower levels, and the angry roar which greeted the would-be rescuers as they peered over the dark channel, at once precluded all hope of rescue and the 28 men were given up.

All night the water poured into its new found bed, and not until 9 o'clock next morning did it resume its natural course, after having effectually filled every cavity and crevice of the great mine.

The death of these 28 men marks the end of the Mansfield mine, for unless the river can be forced to seek another channel the bodies can not be secured, nor can this rich mine ever again be worked.

J. M. Longyear of Marquette is the principal fee owner of the Mansfield mine. The mine was the only active one in the Crystal Falls district on account of it being a producer of high grade Bessemer ore. It had a producing capacity of about 60,000 tons per annum, and gave employment to about 100 men.

The mine inspectors of Iron county will conduct a most rigid investigation into the cause of the disaster. The ore was only 16 feet wide and the nature of the ground was such that experts say it was easy to afford an adequate support to the hanging wall of the mine.

CONDITION OF BUSINESS.

Bradstreet's Report of Trade During the Past Week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Bradstreet's says aside from increased sales and shipments of merchandise at a few widely separated centers there has been no general improvement in the commercial situation this week. It is noteworthy that at such points as Chicago and St. Louis autumn buying from jobbers maintains the slightly increased proportions reported last week, although the volume of business doing is far below the usual average at this season.

A significant feature is found in the closing down again of industries at a number of points in the west where they are recently started up after prolonged idleness. But, on the other hand, the Texas drought has been broken, northwestern banks are advancing funds freely to handle the grain crop, and the south is taking care of the cotton as it gets to market, while in Louisiana the sugar crop is claiming and rice will soon claim financial aid.

Some results of the recent monetary stringency are found in the extraordinarily large number of business failures during the last nine months, 11,174, which is fully 51 per cent heavier than in nine months a year ago, and 25 per cent heavier than in a like portion of 1891. The liabilities of failing traders this year have run up to the unprecedented total of $324,087,000, about four times that of like debts last year.

Exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts of the United States and Canada this week equal 3,460,000 bushels, compared with 4,727,000 bushels last week, with 4,045,000 in the last week of September, 1892, and with 3,405,000 in 1891.

For nine months this year there are reported to Bradstreet 1,323 business failures in Canada and Newfoundland, only 36 more than in nine months of last year. The total liabilities, however, are $18,162,000, an increase of about 41 per cent, and the assets $7,552,000, a gain of 88 per cent. There has been a marked falling off in aggregate liabilities in the province of Quebec during nine months of this year, while quite the reverse is true as to the province of Ontario.

DOUBLE MURDER AT MONITOR.

Postmaster Potter and Assistant Roberts Both Found Dead.

DENVER, Sept. 30.—Postoffice Inspector James A. Small has received a telegram notifying him of the brutal murders of Postmaster H. M. Potter and his assistant, Robert Robert at Monitor, Yuma county. But few details of the killing were obtainable. Both men were alive in the morning, but at noon, when the mail was called for, Roberts was found sitting in a chair in front of the office dead.

When the sheriff was summoned he discovered the body of Potter some distance away with one leg broken, and the skull crushed in. Everything indicated that the men were stoned to death, and it is suspected that the murder is the work of Indians in the vicinity. The postoffice was robbed of two pistols and a rifle.

Kentucky Tragedy.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—Near Hopkinsville, James Southern almost cut John Chapman's head off and then disembowled him. Southern escaped. The two men had quarreled over the ownership of a pair of check lines.

Defaulter Dies in Prison.

THOMASTON, Me., Sept. 30.—M. C. Percival, the defaulting cashier of the National Shoe and Leather bank, Lewiston, who was sentenced in October, 1892, to 10 years imprisonment, died in the state prison here.

Death of an Ex-Senator.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—Ex-United States Senator Willis D. Mackin died at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the western asylum at Hopkinsville of exhaustion incident to extreme old age. He was in his 84th year and was committed to the asylum about three weeks ago.

VIENNA ANARCHISTS

The Discovery of Their Plot Causes Them to Flee.

SEVERAL MORE ARRESTED.

The Police Are Very Vigilant and All the Public Buildings Are Now Guarded. Their Bombs Were Made in This Country—Schemes of Chicago Reds—Precautions Against Them.

VIENNA, Sept. 30.—The excitement caused by the discovery of the great anarchist plot to blow up the reichsrath and other public buildings on Oct. 10, the date of the assembling of parliament, has not abated to any degree. Four workmen were arrested yesterday and more arrests are expected hourly. The police seem to have struck terror to the hearts of the anarchists of this city, for a large number of workmen known to be more or less connected with anarchist societies have within the past few days fled from Vienna.

All the public buildings are now guarded by a special force of policemen and by a number of detectives. These extra precautions will continue for some time, at any rate, until the meeting of parliament is over. The police of this city are in possession of facts which are of the greatest interest to the police of several European capitals, as well as to the police of New York and Chicago. The authorities here present refuse to divulge the particulars of the information in their possession. But it is known that they have established beyond a doubt a connection between the Austrian anarchists and those of New York and Chicago.

KEPT IT A SECRET.

The Anarchist Plot Unearthed in Chicago Several Months Ago.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—When shown the cablegram from Vienna, regarding the anarchists' plots there, a Chicago official who is in this city said it was well known to the Chicago secret service police that the anarchists of Vienna, Paris and London were in constant communication with those of New York and Chicago.

A plot similar to that discovered by the police in Vienna was unearthed in Chicago a year and a half ago, but nothing was said about it for fear it might create a dynamite scare and injure the world's fair. The reds were arranging to blow up the city hall at Chicago and at the same time to blow up several buildings at the world's fair.

Major William McClaughey, who was at that time general superintendent of Chicago police, learned of the affair and by vigorous action nipped it in the bud. One of his secret service men attended a number of the anarchist meetings on Clybourne avenue and another group was covered by another officer on West Lake street. At the latter place a woman, fanatical on the subject of anarchism, volunteered to enter the council chambers during a meeting of Chicago's common council and discharge a big dynamite bomb. She said she was willing to sacrifice her own life for the good of the cause, if by so doing she could destroy the much hated city fathers.

"At the Clybourne avenue meeting, which was acting in concert with the one on Lake street, the plot was being arranged to blow up the world's fair buildings. When Superintendent of Police McClaughey heard of these, he put an extra force of detectives on and a number of the leaders were brought to his office. He told them he knew there were fanatics among them willing to sacrifice their lives for what they believed to be the good of mankind. 'Now,' said McClaughey, 'if there is any dynamite throwing by any of you we will pay little attention to them, but will arrest everyone of you leaders and agitators and a bigger hanging than ever occurred before in Chicago will follow.'

"This plan," continued the official, "had the desired effect and the reds became less active. Among the mass of information gathered at that time were letters from Parisian anarchists which led to the discovery that the bombs used by Ravachol in Paris were furnished by the anarchists of Chicago. As a result Major McClaughey opened communication with M. Loze, who was then prefect of police of Paris.

A sort of compact was then formed between M. Loze, Superintendent of Police M. Byrne of New York, the chief of the Scotland yards service and Major McClaughey. It was arranged that whenever any of the anarchists agitators left Paris for London, New York or Chicago, M. Loze was to cable the fact to the police of the port to which the red was going so that he could be watched. Each of the before-mentioned cities was to do the same for Paris, and in this way the anarchists were to be kept under surveillance. It was by this compact that Major McClaughey was notified of the fact that the Chicago anarchists had arranged to bring Prince Krapotkin, the Russian anarchist of London, to Chicago, and he was enabled to prevent his coming.

In conclusion the official from Chicago said that Hempstead Washburne, who was then mayor, found it necessary to have a detective secreted about his house on Astor place for several months during his term in office on account of the threats made by the anarchists to blow it up.

Will Make No Change.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The leaders of the administration forces conducting the repeal program in the senate have determined to make no change in the present program during next week. The senate will continue to meet at 11 o'clock and adjourn at 6 p. m. There will be no night sessions.

A CLAIM SOLD TO A SYNDICATE.

Its Originator Was a Spaniard Turned American.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—The state department here is now investigating a most interesting claim for indemnity to an American citizen which was presented recently to Senor Moret, the minister of state, by Mr. Hannis Taylor, the United States minister to Spain. The memorandum presented by Mr. Taylor to Senor Moret contains the following facts:

A Cuban filibusterer called Mahno Antonio Mora, who took a prominent part in the separatist rebellion during the time of the Spanish republic and reign of King Amadeus, had to fly from Cuba and take refuge in the United States when the mother country crushed the rebels. Mora acquired American citizenship, declared himself an American subject and sold all his rights and claims for damages against Spain to an American syndicate.

Mora being under sentence of death as a rebel and his property being declared forfeited, Spain made slight account of his claims. But the American syndicate which had bought Mora's claims secured diplomatic help and in 1871 the minister of state actually admitted the claim as subjectable to diplomatic discussion.

The original claim was for $5,000,000. Nobody here believes that Mora ever got this amount from the syndicate. This claim being pressed home in 1889, precisely when the present Minister of State Senor Mora held the same post he holds today and Senor Sagasta was premier, there was a most passionate discussion of the point in the chambers.

The Conservatives, whose spokesman at that occasion was Senor Lastres, opposed any recognition of the claim. It was then shown that Mora's claim was inadmissible. It was proved that an arbitration commission appointed to sit on the case on a former occasion had decided that as Mora was a subject when his property was confiscated for rebellion, he could not legally claim it in his new quality of American citizen.

High words were used in the chamber and the press between the Conservatives and Liberals, but Senor Sagasta's government carried the votes and Mora's claim, not for $5,000,000, but for $1,500,000, was actually included in the budget for 1887-88. It can be alleged on behalf of Senor Moret that he only admitted the claim on diplomatic grounds subject to diplomatic arrangements, and that Spain considered this reduced claim of Mora in his new quality as an American citizen on the understanding that the United States would consider claims of Spanish citizens for damages in the secession wars and also in the Mexican war with the United States wherein Spanish subjects had sustained losses.

The United States now again opens up Mora's case and Spain will probably employ the "set off" of the Florida claim. The matter is causing uneasiness at this moment when Cuba is exercised by such a severe political and commercial crisis.

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE STRIKE

A Number of the Switchmen Return to Work.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—The indications are that the strike on the Louisville and Nashville is nearing an end. The brakemen and switchmen held two meetings. At the first one they concluded to hold out, but at 8 o'clock they decided to return to work. At 8 o'clock the night crews of switchmen and brakemen reported at the yards for duty, and the day crews reported for duty early this morning.

The local lodges of the different brotherhoods held a meeting at the Falls City hall. The engineers, firemen and conductors told the striking shopmen that they need not expect any help from them, and advised all the strikers to return to work.

The striking shopmen are feeling very blue. They only succeeded in getting four nonunion men to quit work yesterday, and many acknowledge that the company has won the fight.

There is absolutely no truth in the report that four of the nonunion workmen are down with the smallpox. The situation in the Chesapeake and Ohio and Southwestern and the Ohio Valley roads remains the same as it was.

Tragedy in Salt Lake City.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 30.—A desperate shooting affray, which resulted in the death of Thomas Darcy and the probable fatal wounding of John Robinson, his brother-in-law, occurred here. Darcy was on the point of leaving for California and deserting a family of children. Robinson took him to task. Darcy responded by drawing a pistol and excitedly firing until all the chambers were emptied, when it was found that two of the shots had taken effect in his own body and two in that of Robinson. Darcy died shortly afterward and Robinson lies in a critical condition.

It Must Be Temporary.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 30.—The committee representing 26 different branches of the Baltimore and Ohio service has arrived here to confer with General Manager Odell in regard to the proposed reduction of wages. The trainmen, it is stated, are willing to accept a temporary reduction of 7 1-2 per cent, but insist on an agreement that the regular wage scale be restored as soon as better business and easier monetary conditions make it possible to do so.

Knowing Ones Will Not Talk.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—There seems to be little doubt about the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern obtaining control of the Kentucky and Indiana bridge within the near future. Those who are close to the management admit this much, but do not talk much about it. The terms of the deal have not been made public.

STATE BANK TAX.

Mr. Oates' Repeal Bill Given a Hearing

BY THE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Oates' Bill Differs From Others In That It Simply "Suspends" the Tax as to All Notes Issued to Circulate as Money With a Certain Provision.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The committee on banking and currency of the house had a hearing on Mr. Oates' bill for the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks.

Mr. Oates' bill differs from others in that it simply "suspends" the tax as to all notes issued to circulate as money, provided there shall first be deposited with the state treasurer or other safe depository an amount of lawful money of the United States or the solvent bonds of par value of the state or municipalities, equal to the aggregate amount of notes proposed to be issued, which shall be held as security, and provided also that the aggregate amount of such state bank issues shall in no case exceed $5 per capita of the population of the state.

Colonel Oates made an elaborate argument in favor of his bill, which, he said, maintained federal supervision, with a limitation as to what had been declared by the courts to be a lawful federal tax.

He was in favor of the absolute repeal of the law, but there were members honestly opposed to that, and he would rather have partial relief than be denied it altogether. He would have no objection to the deposit of the securities with the treasury department of the United States.

The advantage to be derived was the development of local institutions in parts of the country where national banks were not numerous, thus affording an easy and constant local flow of money by preventing the present tendency of sending to congested centers what money there was in the country.

Mr. Oates said that the power of taxation resting in congress could not be denied. The constitution granted it. But congress could and must be trusted to not exercise that power to the detriment of the well-being of the state.

When asked if he favored the use of gold and silver, Mr. Oates replied with an emphatic affirmation that he did.

Discussing the subject of the rate of interest to be permitted to the banks under the law, Mr. Oates said he objected to the insertion in the bill of a requirement on that subject. "Let the state attend to that," he said. "Already it has laws against usury; and if we can not depend upon the people to maintain a form of state government, the federal government is a failure, and we had better begin to change the form and have a king or emperor to rule over us."

Mr. Oates then read to the committee a history of the imposition of the tax upon the circulation of state banks. The taxing power in this direction had never been exercised by the federal government until after the beginning of the war. More than incidental to this was the inception and growth of the national bank system, for it was to make circulation of these banks desirable that state bank circulation was taxed.

Mr. Oates further gave the course of legislation respecting national banks up to the present time. He charged that national banks largely contributed to bringing about the recent panic as a part of their general scheme to retain their influence upon the financial affairs of the country and upon the legislation.

In conclusion Mr. Oates said: "Remand to the states the right of which they have been robbed for the benefit of the national banks, and then the farmers and laboring people can get money at the legal rate of interest whenever they need it. This proposed legislation invokes the hostility of the great national banking institutions because they regard it as inimical to their interests. Whosoever wants to worship at the shrine of money power will obey their behests, but as a friend of the people I believe that they will have more freedom and more money than national banks or even free coinage of silver will ever give them."

In answer to a question from Mr. Haughm, Mr. Oates said that, in his opinion, no combination of private banks and bankers could have the power, under any conditions, that the national banks possess.

Chairman Springer called the attention of Mr. Oates to the fact that the limitation in his bill restricting state banks to a circulation of $5 per capita of population would add but $50,000,000 to the currency of the country even if the largest possible amount was issued and asked if he (Mr. Oates) thought that was enough.

Mr. Oates said that he had based that upon a calculation regarding his own state and thought it would be sufficient. "The people will get sufficient money some way," he concluded. The committee then adjourned.

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 30.—Fire destroyed the cotton compress and railroad depot at Minden, La. Loss $5,000, with no insurance.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair weather, south winds.

BEAR in mind that there is but one regular registration day under the new law, and that is the first Tuesday in October.

DEMOCRATS, don't fail to register next Tuesday. The books will be open, at the usual voting places, from 6 a. m. until 9 p. m.

EVERY person shall be entitled to be registered next Tuesday who would be entitled to vote at the next November election.

The Diamond Plate Glass Factory at Elwood, Ind., will resume operations in the polishing and grinding halls next Monday, giving employment to about 100 hands.

In registering next Tuesday you must give the name of the street or alley on which you live and the number of your residence. The places of registration will be open from 6 a. m. until 9 p. m.

THERE is but one registration day under the new law—the first Tuesday in October. The City Council may order an additional day, but no Democrat should run any risk of losing his vote. The only safe plan is to register next Tuesday.

NEARLY $17,000,000 had been paid in bounties to sugar-growers, under the outrageous McKinley law, up to September 1st. This is direct robbery of the people, truthfully exclaims the Hunterdon (N. J.) Democrat. There is absolutely no more right or justice in taxing the people to pay bounties to the growers of sugar than would there be in paying bounties to the growers of potatoes, corn or cabbages.

This is one of the iniquities of the McKinley bill that should be repealed at once.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY is making some bad breaks in his campaign talks over in Ohio this year. In a recent speech he made an attack upon the Cleveland administration for suspending pensions in cases where fraud was charged, ignoring the fact that the payment of such pensions was declared to be illegal by an order issued by Assistant Secretary Bussey under Harrison's administration, and that other fact, that the order for suspension had been withdrawn by the present head of the Pension Department and that payments are continued for a term sufficient for the pensioner to make good his claim if he is able to do so. The Major should keep better posted.

THE Philadelphia Times of recent date contains the following encouraging statement from one of the best posted advertising men in the country: "F. Wayland Ayer, the senior of N. W. Ayer & Son, the largest advertising concern in the country, says that more advertising orders are being placed now than in any corresponding year. He is of the opinion that all sorts of business will be the better for the late financial storm, and that when every cloud has rolled by and all is serene, although a few shaky concerns may have fallen, those that are really substantial will be all the better for the experience."

Dull times don't stop the real, live hustling merchant from advertising. Then it is that he selects goods he can sell at a big bargain, and he lets the people know it. Now is a good time to advertise for the fall trade. Try the BULLETIN.

FORMERLY Commonwealth's Attorneys received $2,500 per year. Under the new law they get $500 per year and one-half of all fines and forfeitures arising under their prosecutions in the Circuit Courts and paid into the State treasury. "Up to September 1st," says the Winchester Democrat, "this law had been in effect eight months. Only one district in the State, that of Louisville, drew the limit, $4,000. R. H. Peak, of the district composed of Henry, Shelby, Trimble, Spencer, Oldham and Anderson county, gets less than $25 per month from his fees, a sum utterly inadequate to pay his board. Charlie Bronston, of the Lexington district, gets less than $50 per month from the same source."

The Legislature will have to do better than this for the Commonwealth's Attorneys. The office should be filled by lawyers of ability, and that class of attorneys can not afford to accept positions paying only $800 or $1,000 a year.

GENEROUS FOREIGNERS.

Assuming it to be true, as McKinley asserts, that tariff taxes are paid by foreigners, how terribly the American people are wanting in gratitude for the favors and unspeakable generosity of the people of other lands, remarks the Cincinnati Enquirer. For example, as appears by the Treasury reports, the entire value of cigars imported was $2,769,011. For the privilege of supplying our people with cigars of that value the foreigners paid into our Treasury the sum of $3,539,469! The tobacco-raisers and cigar-makers in other lands, according to this showing, donated the cigars to us and gave in addition $770,459. The manufacturers of liquors were still more profuse in their philanthropy. They furnished us with only $1,721,608 worth, and paid for the privilege of having our trade $2,948,714. They pocketed a loss of $1,227,106, besides donating the liquor.

But the generosity was not confined to the dealers and consumers of tobacco and brandy. Foreigners have not only been generous, but they have been gallant. They have remembered the American women in a substantial manner.

The foreign manufacturers of ladies' dress goods shipped us their products to the value of $16,630,371, upon which they paid duties to the amount of $18,458,243. They only retained the pitiful sum of $172,128 for all their trouble and expense.

The manufactured woolen goods imported in 1892 were of the value of $35,792,905. The duties on these goods, as the record shows, were $34,293,606, which they were pleased to settle and realize on all their importations only $1,500,000.

The history of the whole world can not furnish greater examples of open-handed generosity and pure philanthropy. Was there ever any position so ridiculous and absurd as that claimed by the great apostle of protection, that foreigners pay the duties?

COUNTY CLERK HOLT, of Pendleton, is another one of those Dick-Tate class of fellows who "couldn't say no to a friend." Result: His "friends" plucked him, and he now finds himself short about $3,000 with the State. Better say no, and keep straight.

JUDGE QUINCY WARD says he has not yet made up his mind to run for Governor. He says he would like to be the Chief Executive, and he has the subject under consideration. The probability is that he will be a candidate, and if he enters the race the other aspirants will have to hustle.

Internal Revenue.

Deputy Collector Wadsworth reports the following receipts for September:

Spirits.....	$12,175 20
Cigars.....	630 55
Tobacco.....	429 30
Total.....	$13,219 05

Forty Italians, employed on Lexington's water-works, threaten to burn or blow up the city unless they are paid their wages.

MAJOR THOMAS H. SHELBY, Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, has been appointed Custodian of the Public Building at Lexington.

A LEWIS COUNTY sawmill man, having broken some part of the machinery which necessitated his going to Cincinnati to have it repaired, stood on the C. and O. track a few evenings since just west of Vanceburg and when train No. 3 came in sight he pulled his old red bandana from his pocket and began waving it as if signaling danger, says the Manchester Signal. The engineer stopped the train as quickly as possible and dismounting asked the mill man what was the matter. "Nothing," was the response, "except that I want to go to the city." "Well, this train don't stop here," was the engineer's reply. "I know it don't, but it did this time," was the reply, and the engineer boarded the train.

MENTION has been made of the recent death of James Small, of Washington City, brother of Captain Small, of Aberdeen. The Evening Star, of Washington, says, "Deceased was for a long time Sealer of Weights and Measures for the District, and in that capacity was, universally known as an officer of strict integrity. For many years he was an active member of the Board which investigated the applications for liquor licenses, and in that capacity he did much to surround the subject with regulations in the public interest. He took a great interest in all matters connected with the welfare of the District." Deceased was a prominent Mason and Knight Templar.

ED. MARSHALL, the incomparable wag and conversationalist, pursued singular and unique methods as a lawyer. Years ago, before slavery was abolished and when he was at his best as a practitioner, he was called upon by a neighbor to defend one of the latter's slaves who had murdered another negro. In his speech before the jury he said that there was no doubt of his client's guilt, that he had committed the crime of which he was charged, and that it had been clearly proven, and should be punished, but the question was, what punishment was adequate to such a crime. Hanging was not bad enough, as it was over too quickly; life imprisonment would not be commensurate with his offense. "There is only one punishment, gentlemen of the jury, that will at all meet his case, and that is to send the prisoner back to old Bill Utterbach, (his master), for if that won't be hell on earth, gentlemen, I don't know what to term it."

Blasts From Ram's Horn.

Every man who robs the poor cheats himself.

Our faults attract more attention than our virtues.

The man who grumbles does not pray half enough.

A dead church and a live preacher are hard to keep together.

Practice the same kind of religion in the street car as you profess in church.

A hypocrite is a man who, in trying to fool everybody else, only fools himself.

The man who sits down to wait for something to turn up will need a cushion on his seat.

For the Farmer.

The protracted and severe drouth all over the West this summer is bound to make hay valuable before another spring, says the Breeder's Gazette. Already feeding has begun in many sections, and there is likely to be an unusual amount of hay consumed at home. Western hay is going eastward at the rate of many car loads each day, and although the crop in many parts of the West was fully an average one the provident stockman will see that his supply is secured before the price advances.

C. M. I. U. Benefits.

For the six months ending July 1, 1893, the Cigar-Makers' International Union paid out about $130,000 in the way of benefits to its members. In July and August the benefits amounted to about $15,000. The total amounts expended for benefits in the last fourteen years and six months aggregate the sum of $1,899,438.82.

During the recent session of the union, Mr. M. F. Kehoe, of this city, served as Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions.

Pork Packing

The marketing of hogs has been well maintained, the returns for the week indicating a total of 205,000 hogs handled by Western packers, compared with 210,000 the preceding week, and 170,000 for the corresponding period last year, making a total of 5,845,000 since March 1st, against 6,790,000 a year ago. Increase for the week 35,000, and decrease for the season 945,000, compared with last year. The quality of the marketed stock continues good as a rule, but not fully maintained in condition in comparison with a short time back. Prices have been further advanced, and, at the close, the average for Western markets is 25 and 30 cents higher than a week ago.—Cincinnati Price Current.

C. and O. Business.

All the C. and O. trainmen now talk in the same strain, and that is to the effect that business on their line is picking up at a very lively rate, and at all points the prospects are rapidly improving. Both of the local divisions are up to the usual average at present, and both are yet adding daily to the volume of their business. At Huntington the shops will resume on the first of October and at the local shops work is steadily increasing. The outlook as a whole is very encouraging.—Ashland News.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

The Same Old Story Told in the Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Two of the most distinguished Senators on the Democratic side of the chamber—Harris of Tennessee and Morgan of Alabama, made vigorous attacks in the senate on the silver purchase repeal bill. Mr. Harris asserted that the repeal of the Sherman act would be the last recognition of silver as money, and that the Republicans who were now aiding Mr. Voorhees would desert him as soon as they accomplished their purpose and would oppose any measure that might be presented to utilize silver in any way or to any extent. Mr. Harris expressed his readiness to accept any fair and reasonable compromise and his determination to vote against unconditional repeal.

Senator Morgan ridiculed the proposed international agreement as an "idle dream only to be realized by the fervid imagination of a very enthusiastic statesman," (meaning Mr. Allison, Rep., Ia.). He also characterized it as "a tub thrown to the whale," and spoke eloquently of the failure of the struggle for American independence, if this country could not establish its own financial system without the consent of Great Britain. He opposed the bill, and argued in favor of the constitutional right of the free coinage of silver. At the close of his speech he developed a good deal of animosity against President Cleveland and intimated that the Democracy would not "love him for the friends he had made."

Senator Cameron (Rep., Pa.) presented a petition bearing the signature of Mr. Wharton Barker and probably more than a hundred business men and firms of Philadelphia asking the senate to preserve the protective character of the tariff and the integrity of silver as a money metal.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Instead of the interest in the discussion on the federal election repeal bill increasing it is rapidly diminishing. At no time in the house after the bill was taken up were there more than 100 members present and the average attendance throughout the debate would not exceed 25.

Gillett of Massachusetts was the chief speaker. He spoke against the bill, as did Tracy of Iowa and Blair of New Hampshire; and D'Armond of Missouri, and Wheeler of Alabama advocated the repeal. But the surroundings were depressing and none of the gentlemen could do themselves justice. The house at 4:35 adjourned.

IRON TRADE REVIEW.

The Past Three Weeks Show a Steady Improvement.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30.—The Iron Trade Review says:

The signs of improvement in the iron market, noted in the past three weeks, continue to increase, but at the same careful pace. In raw iron there has been somewhat freer trading. Chicago reports the beginning of a generally better movement, and the change from the car lot and the 100-ton orders of the summer is a welcome one.

The principal southern sellers are making an effort in the direction of better prices, and on some grades an advance in quotations ranging from 25 to 75 per cent has been made. The shutting down of furnaces is beginning to tell, and there are predictions that the October report of stocks will show little, if any, increase.

Eastern markets note no improvement in raw iron, reporting weak and irregular prices, the consensus of sellers being that iron was never so hard to sell as it is today—low prices being no inducement unless the article is wanted.

The scramble for business is apparent in the extremely low prices being made; even the eastern nonunion mills are forced to complain of the prices at which Pittsburgh mills are taking business as evidenced by the winning bids in the contracts let last week for 2,500 tons of plates for the Bourse building at Philadelphia. They were several dollars per ton less than the bids of local firms.

Pittsburgh reports indicate a better feeling and more of a disposition by buyers to consider quotations. Yet the fact remains that a deal of business is being done at an actual loss, but the point with products is to reduce as much as possible, by keeping in operation, the known cost of complete inactivity.

In soft steel there is no improvement; billetmakers find no bottom to the market. In them there is no improvement, but some better prospect for orders is reported, the contingency being a continued improvement in the money market.

Two Jail Breakers Captured.

HAMILTON, O., Sept. 30.—William Kuhn and Jesse B. Thomas, the two burglars who broke jail at Connersville, Ind., was captured here by Officers Lenehan and Hetterick. They were on a freight train due here at 3 a. m. The man Kuhn has four charges against him. Thomas is a young man. The Connersville officers have been notified and will be here after the prisoner.

Another Hardin Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Detective Witte of this city, in company with Detective White of St. Louis, arrested one Joseph S. Hardin, who is believed to be one of the robbers of a train on the Illinois Central road. He is in jail here.

Two People Burned to Death.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—The mattress factory of W. H. Foster at 109 and 170 Camp street was destroyed by fire. Mr. Foster, the owner, and Noah Alexander, an employee, were burned to death. The loss on the factory is $25,000.

Milk Peddler Killed by a Farmer.

BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—During a quarrel near Tonawanda Charles Emerson, a milk peddler of this city, was shot and killed by William H. Griffith, a farmer.

Gold Coming from Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Mariposa, which has just arrived, brought $500,000 in gold from Australia.

EX-JUDGE NATHAN HARPER DEAD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Ex-Judge Nathan Harper died of heart disease at his home in Plainfield, N. J., Friday. He was 74 years old and a prominent citizen.

Insurgents Demoralized.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 30.—Advices received here from Rosario show that the insurgents there are completely demoralized. The national troops, who were centered at Villa Maria, are expected to be shortly in possession of the city.

Jewelers Assign.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 30.—Henry C. Whittier & Son, retail jewelers, have assigned. The liabilities are estimated at $50,000, and it is believed the assets will exceed that sum.

Death Relieved Him.

HAMILTON, O., Sept. 30.—Philip Rauch, whose legs were cut off by a Panhandle train Thursday night, died at 2 o'clock Friday morning.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Complete Manhood and how to attain it.

At last a medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. This is scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful, medical book that has appeared for years; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tint. Some of the subjects treated are Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc. Every man who would know the grand truths, the plain facts, the old secrets, and the new discoveries of medical science as applied to married life, who would alone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this wonderful little book. It will be sent free, under seal. Address the publishers, Erie Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
